State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

One of the most important offices to be filled it the Judicial election, which occurs on the second Monday in October, is that of State Superintendent of Public Instruction. It unfortunately happens that a full vote is never polled at this election, while it is scarcely possible to secure a dispassionate choice, for the reason that the bias of the general election still retains its influence, and the demoralization born of defeat prevents the minority parties from making an energetic canvass. In the present instance the contest lies between the Democratic and Republican candidates, the Independent candidate being out of the fight, whether or not he withdraws. The Republican candidate is Professor Carr; the Democrat, "Parson" Fitzgerald. As between the two, no intelligent and unprejudiced man could hesitate a moment, for, while Carr is a trained educator, a man of scientific culture, broad attainments, and national reputation, his opponent is neither more nor less than an uncultivated, half-educated Southern politician, of the ultra type, and in no way fitted to preside over the educational system of a State like California. By an unfortunate chance he was once elected to the office, and it is notorious that he proved to be altogether incompetent. We are too well aware that ignorance and unfitness are not considered drawbacks, even to the highest and most responsible offices, by the Democratic rank-and-file, and we do not for a moment lose sight of the strong probability that the vote of this element will be cast solid for Fitzgerald, no matter what convincing evidences may be adduced of his ineligibility. But while we recognize the force of these considerations, and also take into account the well-known fact that at such an election the only faithful work is usually done by Democrats, the Republicans deserting the polls, we hold it nevertheless to be our duty to point out what ought to be done. The responsibility for failure must go where it belongs. At present we shall content ourselves with expressing the opinion that if the Republicans and Independents can sink their differences for the general good, and unite upon Professor Carr, they can elect him. Perhaps also no better opportunity could be found for the inauguration of that process of reunion which has to be gone through, as a preface to the Presidential campaign. There will be only two parties here next year, the Democrats and Republicans. Those who have voted with the Independents must now make their choice between the two living parties, and we cannot doubt that they will return to their original position, in the Republican ranks. They have tried in the past to rule the Republican party, and failed. They have also tried to ruin it, and failed. Now that their own craft has sunk from under them, however, and they are compelled to swim for their lives, they will probably be willing to resume their old relations without insisting that the command be turned over to them. The grounds for such a course as is here advised are two-fold, and hardly to be overcome. In the first place every parent in the State is interested in securing the best available talent for the Superintendency of Public Instruction. In the second place every citizen must speedily decide where he will stand, politically, next year. We cannot imagine an Independent who should believe Fitzgerald to be a fitter candidate than Carr, any more than we can imagine an Independent after the election declaring for the Democracy. At any rate the issue is a fair and plain one, between a thoroughly well qualified candidate and a thoroughly ill-qualified candidate, and every voter of ordinary sagacity can decide for himself as to the way he should vote.—Record-Union.

A Modern Balaam.

When the Pacific Railroad was making its way through the wilderness, a new town sprang up at every temporary terminus. Most of the railway towns, after running a brief and riotous career, have dried up and vanished, though their names still figure on time-tables and in official documents. One exception to this rule is Corinne, a flourishing little city at the crossing of Bear river, in the Territory of Utah. Corinne is purely a Gentile town in a thoroughly Mormon region. It is a thorn in the side of the faithful, a fly in the ointment which should rejoice Brigham Young. At first it was as rough and quarrelsome as an unlicked cub. After a while it developed itself as an enterprising, active, and properous business community. It offered tempting inducements to the traffickers of the Territory, Gentile or Mormon, and it suddenly became influential as an important trading center. Brigham Young, having regarded this encroachment on his domain with much disfavor, went down to the river bank opposite Corinne, one day, and solemnly called down a curse upon the place. Lifting up his hands, he invoked the maledictions of heaven upon the town and its inhabitants, and said that they and it should pass away. Whether he called down upon the people the divine displeasure in their bed and board, their eating and drinking, their down-sitting and their up-rising, after the good old style, we are not precisely informed. A local report says that the Pantarch "cursed Corinne up hill and down."

When Balaam stood on "the top of Peon that looketh toward Jeshimon," the curses which he would have fulminated on Israel were turned into blessings. The people of Corinne think that Brigham Young and his maledictions have brought them luck. Certainly, the town has not only prospered in spite of the curse of this false prophet, but the baffled Young has been obliged to employ a singular agency to help on his delayed judgment. Balaam, when he found that he could not carry out the wishes of the King of Moab, got to his own place. Brigham Young, distrusting his own powers of blessing and cursing, built a narrow-gauge railroad. This work was intended to destroy the trade of Corinne, but the banned community laughed at the railroad as they had at the anathema; but their accursed city continued to grow. The Saints were forbidden to buy and sell at Corinne; but some of them defied excommunication, and others made their purchases at second hands. Somehow the vindictive proclamations of Brigham Young were overruled. His thunderbolts of wrath fell harmless in Bear Valley.

About a fortnight since there was a rumor in the West to the effect that a descent was to be made upon Corrinne by some of the Indian tribes which have settled about ten miles from that place. These Indians left their reservation and, for some mysterious reason, gathered nearer Corinne, where there were none of the attractions which usually entice roving people. The citizens of Corinne were alarmed, and sent their families to a place of safety. The Mormons jeered at their fears, but helped to spread the reports of threatened danger. Two weeks have elapsed, and the Indian attack has not yet been made. The danger has passed away, if any ever existed. It was plainly only one more ineffectual bolt from the armory of the Mormon Jove. In this encounter, last several years, the new Balaam, like the old, had been worsted. It is not likely that Young ever believed that his curse of Corinne would ever amount to much directly, though he may have supposed that his people would endeavor to make it good. But the Gentiles say that they have faced the dragon, and that "his eyes are made of glass, and his tail is filled with sofa-springs."—N. Y. Times.

ROOFS,

On Very Reasonable Terms,

The color is ornamental for roofs; resembling a highly polished slate. It can be placed on either tin or shingles already painted, and which are old, saving both the roof and rendering the same impervious to fire and water. In offering this PAINT to the public, we supply a need which has long been felt. Almost without exception shingled roofs have been left without any protection from the scorching sun and soaking storms, shrinking and swelling, and speedily going to ruin and decay, causing leaky roofs and expensive repairs. A preparation that could easily be obtained and applied by any one, and would give ample protection, and not be affected by heat or cold, sunshine or storm, and be

☞ The circulation of the TRIBUNE is double that of any paper published in Alameda county.

So far as the State election is concerned, two parties claim a victory. The Republicans find consolation in Phelps' majority over Bidwell, and the Democrats rejoice in Irwin's majority over both. The fate of the Temperance candidate is scarcely taken into consideration.

Frank Pixley has been appointed Regent of the State University vice Wm. C. Ralston deceased. This is probably in consideration of the valuable services of the Argonaut in behalf of the Independent ticket. There is no great loss without some small gain, and in the loss of Ralston the Regency gains a Pixley and the Argonaut finds its reward for its political apostasy.

Some of the incidents illustrative of the great benevolence of Wm. C. Ralston are made public daily. The tomb has broken the pledges of secrecy which concealed much of that noble man's charity, and [illegible] the complaints of his bounty [illegible] testimony of his open hand [illegible] those who would give [illegible] in [illegible] Fitch's benevolence [illegible] their employes. The charity which those two dispense is the charity of the guillotine.

The [illegible] number of the Resources of California is unusually interesting. This fine publication is really a monthly mirror of the condition of the [illegible] of the State. It is [illegible] compiled from the press of every county, and the reader has the prospect and advantages of every section [illegible]. As a medium for disseminating information about California [illegible] has no equal, and we [illegible] encouraged. John P. H. Wentworth is the publisher, office [illegible] of Sacramento and [illegible].

In this column will be found an article from the Sacramento Record-Union upon the judicial election to which we invite the reader's attention. The chances of election are [illegible] improved by the withdrawal of Mr. J. M. Gwinn, the Independent candidate, but the result of the recent election must admonish the friends of the Doctor that they must not be idle. [illegible] very unpopular [illegible] and Dr. [illegible] more to oppose [illegible] of the people than [illegible] opponent's strength, notwithstanding the recent Democratic sweep.

The Political Code, section 4,100 says that all county and township officers, except [illegible] and Supervisors [illegible] hold for two years from the first Monday of January as follows [illegible]. The same article provides that the [illegible] Assessors shall hold four years from the same date and [illegible] Supervisors shall hold for three years. In former times the county [illegible] did not enter upon their duties until the first Monday of March next following the election. A special law applicable to this county was passed at the last session of the Legislature, [illegible] of township assessors [illegible] two years.

[illegible] individual who [illegible]

The [illegible] attack upon the [illegible] of the Bulletin [illegible] Mr. Mills, who [illegible] those papers [illegible] the reputation of the deceased [illegible] the Call [illegible] the capitalist [illegible] after they were dead [illegible] to feel any qualms of [illegible] has cowardly assailed [illegible]. The distinguished fugitive from [illegible] the living as long as they put money in his purse, or [illegible] his worthless [illegible]; the latter class are the more respectfully treated by the old [illegible].

The [illegible] attached to party platforms by the general public was pretty well demonstrated in this county by the result of the late election. The Democratic County Convention didn't adopt any local platform. The Republicans put forth a number of resolves upon local matters supposed to be very near to the public heart. The Independents, not to be outdone, promised everything that the Republicans did, and more [illegible]. They agreed to execute, if not nominated, every candidate who should fail to toe the line they had marked out. Mr. Robinson, and the Independent outfit, went stumping about the county, attaching the [illegible] with personal promises not to take anything which did not belong to them and to hold the dear people's interest [illegible] to all other considerations. The result was, the Republicans and Independents were badly beaten. These platform makers may find consolation in the words of the Psalmist, which so beautifully expresses the situation in these lines:

[illegible]

Paterson (N. J.), September 5. Ballots for the Constitutional Amendment election in New Jersey, which takes place next Tuesday, were circulated in the Catholic Church in this city to-day, with amendments 1, 4, 8 and 11 crossed out. The crossed amendments prohibit appropriation of public money and lands for private or sectarian purposes, guaranteeing [illegible] of free public schools, and prohibit special legislation.

OVERLAND ARRIVALS TO-NIGHT.

Following is a list of passengers to arrive by overland train this evening:

[illegible] and wife, [illegible] Oregon; [illegible] San Francisco; [illegible] Boston; Prof. A. Ewald and wife, [illegible] and wife, [illegible] St. Louis; [illegible] New York; [illegible] England; Mrs. [illegible] and family, Iowa; [illegible] St. Louis; Miss [illegible] Ohio; [illegible] A. F. Davis, Ind.; [illegible] Russia; Miss J. [illegible] Reynolds, J. D. [illegible] Michigan and 8 immigrants.

Pleasant and Profitable Employment. "Beautiful!" "Charming!" "Oh, how lovely!" "What are they worth?" etc. Such are exclamations by those who see the large elegant New Chromos produced by the European and American Chromo Publishing Company. They are all perfect Gems of Art. No one can resist the temptation to buy when seeing the Chromos. Canvassers, agents and ladies and gentlemen out of employment will find this the best opening ever offered to make money. For full particulars, send stamp for confidential circular. Address F. GLEASON & CO., 738 Washington street, Boston, Massachusetts.

HAIR WORK. Ladies who left orders for hair work with Miss [illegible], at her old stand, will please call and get them at Room No. 6, Central Block, over Schreiber's furniture store.

THE STATE FAIR.

The Sacramentans season of harvest is drawing near. The State Fair is coming on apace, and the good people of Burns' Slough are putting their houses in readiness to 'take in' their visitors from every part of the State. The yearly sessions of the Fair and the biennial meetings of the Legislature, are the main stays of the Capital city. Without these, life in that place would be a vexation; there would be nothing to awaken hope and drive away despair. It was doubtless a feeling of pity for the unfortunate residents of Sacramento that induced the Legislature to locate the Fair grounds in that inconvenient section of the country. The Fair bridges over the chasm between Legislative sessions and makes existence upon that neck of made land barely endurable. As the Fair is a sort of public charity the benevolent from the four quarters of the State consider it a religious duty to make a pilgrimage to the Capital during its session. They go, confidently expecting to be mercilessly "bled," and they never return disappointed. All acknowledge the right of the men, women and children of Sacramento to go through them with a perfect looseness on those occasions. Hence the railroad company makes it an object for travelers to the annual exhibition to procure return tickets, as experience has taught the railroad people that after the visitors have passed through the clutches of Sacramento lodging-house and boarding-house keepers they rarely retain enough coin to pay their fare home, and would, unless provided with a return ticket, be thrown upon the streets destitute, and the company, out of pity, would be compelled to carry them home free.

But the Fair this year promises to be unusually attractive. The State Board of Agriculture, it is said, are doing all in their power to render the exhibition useful and entertaining. Although there are no turf stars like "Occident," "Fullerton," "Goldsmith Maid" and "Lucy," to attract the lovers of fast trotting, still the speed programme which has been arranged by the Association will prove sufficiently attractive to call out the "flyers" which still remain in the State, and make the exhibition an interesting one. The Fair commences on the 15th inst. and continues for ten days.

An Anecdote of Ralston.

One Christmas Eve, a few years ago, a little girl wandered from store to store trying to sell a picture, and on the sale of that picture depended her mother's and her own dinner. But people were busy closing up their affairs for the evening and had no time to observe the lean, imploring face of the poor child, who timidly and imploringly endeavored to draw attention to the painting, which was of no great interest to her. At last, footsore and despairing, before giving up her venture as lost, she passed into the Bank of California. Mr. Ralston saw her, kindly asked her errand, inquired about her sick mother, and then put his hand in his pocket and gave her a sum ample enough not only for food and fire, but also to defray many of the obligations that pressed upon the family. Nor did his charity end here. He procured them employment and that family is now in comfortable circumstances, but never will forget the saving hand that was extended to them on that Christmas Eve. How many well authenticated anecdotes of benevolence of that most charitable of men are in the mouths of those who never felt his worth until he was lost to them forever.

OBJECTS.

The objects of this Association are to raise funds in shares of [illegible] $200 each, payable in periodical installments, and to make loans to its members for the purpose of aiding them in acquiring or improving real estate.

ADVANTAGES.

This Association offers better inducements to shareholders than any other corporation of the kind on this coast.

No shareholder can own more than 25 shares, and each shareholder can have but one vote.

No money loaned outside of the membership of the Association, and for no other purpose than acquiring or improving homesteads.

No shareholder is entitled to a greater loan than his shares represent at $200 per share.

Each borrower gets a statement of interest every twelve months.

Payments for stock are made in installments of 50 cents per share on the second and fourth Mondays of each month; fines and forfeitures being provided by the rules for failure in such payments.

Interest in all cases 7 3-10 per cent per annum, being 2 cents per day on a $100 loan, and only 20 cents per day on a $1,000 loan,

Enabling every shareholder to be his own landlord and in a few years own his own home with less average monthly outlay than his ordinary rent.

The shareholders elect their own Treasurer, Secretary and Attorney, besides the Trustees.

[illegible] all shareholders, and all loans made in open meeting to the highest bidder.

No [illegible] foreclosure, ample provisions being made for death, sickness, or other inability.

Neither the Attorney and Secretary receive salaries from the Association and the Association has no rent to pay, hence expenses are comparatively insignificant, and all the profits go to the shareholders.

A large part of the stock is already subscribed and within two weeks it is expected the entire stock will be taken and almost immediately thereafter bring a premium.

Subscription books at the drug store of W. D. Conrad, corner of 19th street and 10th avenue, Brooklyn, and at the office of the Association at all hours of the day.

Building and Loan Association.

The regular monthly meeting of the stockholders of the Building and Loan Association will be held this evening at 7½ o'clock, at the office of the Association, 1007 Broadway.

Dance Last Night.

The [illegible] held at the Academy of Music last evening passed off very happily as they always do. The attendance was quite large. Messrs [illegible] & [illegible] furnished the music.

Kite Sailing.

W Dobson, who has recently invested in a kite for sailing purposes, gave an exhibition of its [illegible] on the bay last evening. He started from Long Bridge and reached Alameda in one hour and twenty minutes. A week previous the time made between the same two points was two hours and twenty minutes.

Burglary.

While the family of S F Daniels were absent from their residence on Myrtle street near Thirteenth on Saturday some thief entered it and after ransacking pretty thoroughly departed with about $200 worth of silverware and other plunder which [illegible]. No clue has been obtained regarding the bold scoundrel's subsequent movements.

Serious Accident.

Lopez Garcia, a Spaniard, residing at No. 911 Vallejo street, San Francisco, while sitting upon the platform of one of the cars of the [illegible] train last evening, fell asleep and tumbled off near the old ferry landing. His left leg was badly broken and two fingers of his left hand were crushed. He was removed to his home for surgical attendance.

Spicy and Original.

The Oakland Sun in noticing our enlargement says: "The Oakland Daily Tribune has been enlarged and is now the same size as the San Francisco Bulletin. We are truly glad to see our neighbor exhibit such signs of prosperity, for the Tribune is one of the best written up papers on the coast. It is spicy, original and deals with live subjects. We wish it much prosperity."

Libel Suit.

Geo M Pinney of this city has filed a complaint in the Twelfth District Court against Loring Pickering and G K Fitch to recover $25,000 damages and cost of suit for an alleged willful, malicious and defamatory libel. The article on which the suit is brought was published in the Bulletin August 24th, headed "Frauds on the Government—Serious charges against Geo M Pinney."

Carelessness on the Cars.

Many of the trains were densely crowded with passengers yesterday, some of whom were very careless in their attempts to get on and off. One man from San Francisco attempted to jump on a train while it was moving at a rapid rate. He missed [illegible] and [illegible] fell. Fortunately however a passenger and a brakeman caught him just in time to save his limbs and perhaps his life.

The Lady in Pantaloons.

As we expected Mrs Dr Mary Walker has made her debut in Oakland. She meandered along Broadway in her patent pantaloons. Little boys, forty others, the Heathen Chinee and everybody else who gazed up after and her peculiar dress seemed to think that she was forcing style. The lady [illegible] and there is a special [illegible] low ahead of her wherever she goes as she announces that the other Dr Mary Walker is a fraud.

Prisoner Pardoned.

William Gropp, who was convicted at the January term 1874 of the County Court of Alameda county of robbery and sentenced to ten years imprisonment, has been pardoned by Governor Pacheco. His term was nearly up and his conduct during the period of his incarceration was uniformly good. His pardon was solicited by a number of citizens, including the person robbed, and one reason for granting it was that his health was fast failing him. His associate in crime was released about a year ago.

Complimentary Entertainment.

The theatrical friends of Mat W Kennedy, in anticipation of his intended trip East, have tendered him a complimentary benefit, the entertainment to take place at the Academy of Music, one week from Wednesday evening, September 15th. An excellent programme will be presented of which further mention will be given. The Transcript this morning says: "Mr Kennedy deserves a substantial benefit, for beyond his intrinsic merits as an artist, he has invariably tendered his services for charitable objects when called upon."

Attempted House-Breaking.

On Saturday evening, about 8 o'clock, two men made an attempt to break into the residence of G F Stahl on Linden street, beyond Twenty-eighth. Mr Stahl was absent at the time, his wife and children being alone in the house. Hearing a noise, Mrs Stahl enquired who was at the door, but despite her presence, the would be house-breakers continued their endeavors to effect an entrance. A little daughter called for assistance from an upper window and some young men in an adjoining yard quickly responded. The burglars evidently became scared, as they beat a hasty retreat.

"Stocks are Down."

A day or two after the panic a lady teacher in one of our public schools, who is suspected of having dabbled somewhat in stocks while reading to her class came across the passage "He who steals my purse steals trash"—and remarked rather dolefully that Mr Shakspeare's observation was very appropriate at the present time. A pert young miss without regard for the teacher's feelings said in a whisper, which was perfectly audible in every part of the quiet room "Stocks are down!" The class exercises were suspended for a few moments while teacher and class indulged in a hearty laugh. But we shall not be surprised to learn that at the end of the month that young lady's report as regards "department," like stocks will also be down.

A Fine Work of Art.

A work of art combining much ingenuity and great beauty is to be observed in the garden attached to the residence of Mr Diaz on San Pablo avenue, near the [illegible] bridge. It is an eagle fashioned out of small pieces of rocks, the figure serving as a fountain. From the beak of the bird a slight stream of water flows. Perched as it is above heavier rocks the eagle stands forth in bold relief attracting the attention of all passers-by. It is universally admired by all who view it, and a visit to it will repay any one who has an eye for what is really curious and artistic. It is the handiwork of W A Kinney, a landscape gardener, who is in charge of the grounds, which are laid out with great skill and are very beautiful in all their appointments.

Messrs. Dunham & Lathrop's New Photographic Art Gallery, at No. 1107 Broadway, east side between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, near the City Hall, is now open to the public. This is the only photographic establishment on the Pacific Coast fitted up in [illegible] style, where everything is on the ground floor, altogether dispensing with an "elevator" or stairs. Every style of work known to the business is here executed in [illegible] style, including the new promenade and [illegible] vignettes. Special attention given to children's pictures, locket work, copying and [illegible]. Tinted work will also receive special attention. Terms always reasonable.

"SWEET ORANGES."

Interview with an Oakland Street Vendor.

"Sweet oranges" appeared on our streets simultaneously with the income of the warm spell last week. The dulcet sounds of his pure tones are heard from "early morn till dewy eve." He drives a one horse wagon, filled to the brim with the tempting fruit of the tropics, when he starts out on his sweet mission every morning, and he calls out his "sweet oranges, sweet oranges" as he moves slowly and melodiously along. If his fruit is not exactly what he represents it "sweet," his voice makes amends for the pardonable business exaggeration. A Tribune reporter who had been enchanted with the melodious strains of his voice, which he supposed must have been gathered under the fostering influence of an Italian sky, interviewed him on Saturday, being anxious to ascertain his name and learn something of his history. He found him piping his sweet lay along Eleventh street, seated on his wagon. We stopped him by holding up our finger and in an instant his horse was halted and himself alongside the wagon filling a paper sack with oranges at two bits. We told him we did not wish any fruit, but merely wanted to talk to him, ascertain his name, etc, and give him a puff in the Tribune. "What is your patronymic and where were you born," we enquired, expecting to hear a name ending with an "O" and Milan, Genoa or Florence mentioned as his place of nativity. We were disappointed in those classic expectations.

With a wondering eagerness in his eye our sweet friend looked at us and asked: "Is it me name you mane, and where I was born, Sir, you want to know?"

The disenchantment was instantaneous; his rich brogue betrayed his nationality without answering a single question. "Faith, sir," he continued, "if that is all you want to know, I can soon tell ye. Me name is O'Leary, and me native place is Cork. I'm Irish, sir, and O'Leary is an Irish name."

"The people who hear your voice take you for an Italian," said we, "but they are mistaken. The 'O' is in the wrong place."

"Sure enough, sir," said he, "and what's more strange, I'm an Irish Orangeman and a good Catholic at the same time, but that does not make any difference with the quality of the fruit I sell, you know."

"Certainly not," said we, "and you shall have a 'puff' in the Tribune, in the first place for your voice, and in the second place, for your wit."

"You're a gintleman, sir, and you're welcome to try me oranges (handing us a bag full), and plaze to do it nate, as you know how, for the Tribune is the best paper in Oakland."

And he resumed his cry of "Sweet oranges, sweet oranges," evidently feeling happy over his interview with a Tribune reporter.

LOCAL TRAVEL.

The New Ferry-Boat and the Depot Buildings.

It is said that the cost of constructing the new ferry-boat Oakland approximates $400,000. No expense was spared in fitting her up, and she may justly be regarded as the finest craft of the kind in the United States. Her saloon is both commodious and magnificent. She has two fine return tubular boilers, shells nine feet in diameter, combustion chambers, and they have 7,000 feet of heating surface and 112 feet grate surface. The engine is the same as was formerly used on the Chrysopolis and is a vertical beam engine, built by the Neptune Iron Works of New York. The cylinder is 60-inch bore and 12-foot stroke and has been thoroughly overhauled. The wheels are 28 feet in diameter, 10-foot face. Each has 24 buckets of 28 inches. The boilers were built at the Railroad Company's works at Sacramento. The dimensions of the vessel are as follows: Extreme length on deck 282, length of keel, 261 feet and 7 inches, beam of hull, 40 feet, extreme beam over guards, 72 feet, height of main deck 17 feet 6¼ inches, length of joiner work on deck, 176 feet, length of saloon, 136 feet, height of joiner work on main deck, 10 feet, height of saloon 9 feet, breadth of saloon, 28 feet. In addition to being lengthened, etc., she has been iron-diagonally strapped throughout, and been otherwise strengthened in various ways. She has five keelsons, and has been newly coppered. She has a carrying capacity of 4,000 persons.

The new depot buildings connected with the slips at Market street in San Francisco, are capacious and convenient, the main building being two stories high with a large verandah in front about 25 feet wide. North of this is a similar two-story building for the traffic of the San Quentin ferry and the North Coast Railroad. A wide shed extends all along in front of the slips, and the aprons are broad and easily worked. Separate offices are in the main building for overland travel and overland tickets, and consequently the confusion and crowding which prevailed on Davis street will be obviated. Another improvement is embodied in several spacious waiting rooms, a convenience and improvement which will be thankfully accepted by those who have waited in a penetrating rain on Winter days in the former open-air quarters on Davis street. The new slips and concomitants, besides being better are far more accessible from the center and suburbs of the city. Several lines of street cars halt in front of the depot, and in every respect the new locality seems to be more convenient than the one just abandoned.

COUNTY MATTERS.

Ticket Box Stolen—Serious Accident—Coal Mining.

To the Livermore Enterprise, we are indebted for the following interesting items of news:

On Friday, of last week, some unknown scoundrel entered the passenger depot and stole the ticket box, supposing that John L Mitchel had left the ticket money in the case. The thief cut the wire—by which it was fastened—and carried the case out under the platform when the door was broken open and a search made for money. Fortunately Mr Thief found nothing, and so deserted the case and departed for parts unknown. Mr Mitchel found the case shortly after, and, upon examination found everything all right, except the case, which was badly injured. A new one now hangs in its place and a double barrelled shotgun will welcome the next intruder.

On Monday last, while the workmen were engaged in threshing on the ranch of Thomas Hayes, a team became frightened and ran away with a thresher upon a hillside, throwing Charles Mason off in a manner as to injure him very seriously. He was tenderly cared for at the time, and may recover, but doubts are entertained as to the matter. The machine was a complete wreck and will necessitate Mr Hayes purchasing a new one. The accident was unlooked for, and will result in a serious matter to Mr Hayes, as threshing machines are very costly. Mr Hayes has been a citizen of this place for a long time and is Superintendent of the Arroyo Valle Water Company Works.

We have had a few words with Superintendent Harris and a number of his men, from the Livermore Coal Mine. Work upon the boilers, engines and general machinery is progressing finely and will perhaps be completed about the close of the coming week. The dressing up and preparatory work to open the drifts from the main shaft east and west is about finished and as soon as the hoisting works are in readiness we shall look for a busy scene in and about the mine. The coal is not to be questioned as regards its quantity or quality and every man holding stock in the Company should feel as though he had a valuable property in his possession. The workmen from the Superintendent are men of experience and fully comprehend the situation and as soon as the present work is completed shipments of coal will commence.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

Post Mortem Examination—Verdict by the Jury.

The investigation into the death of W Thompson (previously reported Johnson) came to a close this morning. It will be remembered that the deceased was found dead in bed on Saturday morning at his residence, corner of Center and Second streets. After a careful investigation by Coroner Mather and his jury, a verdict of "Rupture of Aneurism of aorta" was rendered.

A post mortem examination of the body was made by Dr Woolsey, and the following is his report thereon:

"There were no external evidences of violence, except those inflicted by ravenous flies and nature's destroying chemistry. The face and body were so distorted and decomposed as to leave neither trace of expression nor sign of nutritive condition. On examining the tissues beneath the skin, however, I discovered that the body must have been emaciated and badly nourished. On opening the chest I found a large quantity of clotted blood within the cavity, and upon its removal discovered a large opening (three or four inches in diameter) into a large aneurismal sac of the aorta.

In plain English, a portion of the large vessel given off from the heart became so distended through disease and by the impulse of the blood current as to finally yield to the resistance of such impulse. Rupture here occurred and the victim's blood and life rushed out together. The heart itself was greatly diseased, its walls thinned, its cavities dilated and its valves insufficient. The disease of the heart and that of the ruptured vessel were of the same character, and from this circumstance we are enabled to understand how it was that the deceased survived so long. The disease of the heart obviously kept pace with that of the vessel, and as the latter became weaker and weaker, the heart's action became less and less strong. It is true that the vessel yielded first, but the force of the circulation has assuredly been so feeble for a long period that the entire body has been for a correspondingly long period more dead than alive. I removed the entire contents of the chest en masse. The lungs were considerably compressed (by the pressure of blood and gas) but presented no evidences of disease whatever. The wind pipe and the viscera of the abdomen were all congested, but the only disease observed beyond that alluded to was a small abscess in the interior of the left kidney."

IMPORTANT IMOVEMENT.

Efforts Being Made to Establish a Large Watch Factory at San Leandro.

The Record, of San Leandro, says that pursuant to a call, about forty citizens assembled in Smith's Hall to consider the propriety of making an effort to secure the location of the Cornell Watch Manufactory in that town. The meeting was organized by electing Mr A Baldwin, Chairman, and J T Kindleberger Secretary. Mr Ovratt said the Company has about $350,000 of a capital, a great portion of which it will lay out wherever it may locate a factory on this coast. He also stated that as an inducement to locate the company wants stock taken and a donation of about ten acres of land. They would erect a pretty large establishment and employ over three hundred persons. Messrs George H Payne, Joseph Demont, W I Trasher, and Mr Ovratt were appointed a committee to rouse the people on the importance of the matter and secure a general attendance at the next meeting to be held Thursday evening, September 2d. The adjourned meeting was held at Smith's Hall on Thursday evening. Jos Collingridge was elected Chairman and J T Kindleberger Secretary. Mr Cornell, President of the Cornell Watch Company, and Mr Bacon, Superintendent of the company's works were present. Mr Cornell at the request of the meeting made an explanatory statement. He in substance said the company had their factory temporarily located in one of Mr Ralston's buildings in San Francisco, but that they had decided to seek a permanent location somewhere in the country in the vicinity of San Francisco. He said the company was now operating with a capital of about three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and that they expected the place in which they locate to double the capital, that is to take three hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth of stock in the company, but that they would take nearly all of the subscriptions in land. He thought that from one to two hundred acres of land and fifty thousand dollars in cash would meet their requirements. The Company now employed about one hundred and fifty hands, but when they moved and increased their facilities they would employ about three hundred. The meeting was quite large and considerable enthusiasm was manifested about the matter. A committee consisting of Messrs J M Estudillo, Geo H Hayne, L C Morehouse, Alexander Baldwin, Joseph Demont, J L Kirkman and L Stone, was appointed to accompany Messrs Cornell and Bacon on a tour of inspection and inquiry around the neighborhood and report at the next meeting."

Important Fire Test.

At half past six o'clock on Saturday evening an important and a severe test of Rice & Davis fire proof paint was made at the residence of G M Fisher, at Eighth and Filbert streets, in the presence of a large assemblage, among which was noticed Judge Ferris, President of the First National Gold Bank, G M Fisher, Cashier of the same, S S Montague, Chief Engineer of the Central Pacific Railroad, Francis Reichling, Henry Smith, of Hutchinson, Mann & Smith, general insurance agents, Walter Blair, Nathaniel Gray, Captain P S Wilcox, President of the Oakland Bank, Wm Power, of the firm of Power & Gough, contractors, A M Williams, capitalists, and other prominent residents of this city, including several ladies.

A roof about a yard square, made especially for the occasion was placed upon a barrel in the roadway. On its surface, a fire was started out of shavings and chips. Oil was also poured on. After burning eleven minutes, the roof which had been covered with the paint in question, was examined, and found to be but little charred. It proved to be fire proof and all present seemed fully satisfied with the result of the test. The paint is also water proof and must prove to be of great value alike to residences, barns and manufacturing establishments, as if a fire be raging, adjoining properties can escape the ravages of sparks and flakes, if their roofs be covered with this paint. The agents for its sale in this city are Posey & Co., No 956 Broadway. They will explain its merits to all who desire to look into its character. The peculiar and valuable quality of the paint must ensure it an extended sale in this section of the country where there are so many wooden structures.

EAST OAKLAND ITEMS.

The Fruit Vale Street Railroad a Success—Travel Suspended for a Few Days—Mystery in the Count at the Second Brooklyn Precinct—Great Crowd at Badger's Park Yesterday—Carriage Accident Etc

Travel on the new Brooklyn and Fruit Vale street railroad yesterday exceeded all anticipations, as many as thirty persons having crowded into the balloon car at one time. The Directors have therefore determined to provide more ample accommodations and have suspended travel for a few days with this view. Many have a curiosity to see the charming vale, and trips in that direction will be popular, especially on Sundays.

There was great indignation among the Independents in the second precinct of Brooklyn Township this morning on the discovery that not a single ballot cast at the late election contained the name of Henry Robinson for Senator. When it is known that some of the most prominent Independents in the county, such as C T Hopkins, J V Webster, Frederick Rhoda, James Linfoot and others voted at this precinct, they are open to the imputation of a want of good faith toward their Senatorial candidate. These gentlemen are loud in their declarations of having voted for their candidate and accuse the officers of election of fraudulent conduct.

Badger's Park was yesterday the scene of great festivity on account of the regatta. The attendance was very large and the interest unusual. We are evidently waking up to the importance of our waters for regatta purposes and the enjoyment of aquatic sports.

There was nearly a very serious carriage accident this morning about 10 o'clock near Loth's saloon on East Twelfth street. Mr William Grosso was driving along in his buggy when he was overtaken by another party, evidently a stranger, who drove his buggy over Mr Grosso's, injuring the same and causing an accident to himself that very nigh proved fatal, as he came within an ace of having his neck broken, having been pitched out of his buggy and thrown heavily upon his head and shoulders. He must have been asleep, as when Mr Gross asked him how such an occurrence could have happened he said he could not control his horse, which appeared to be a very quiet one, as it did not attempt to run away when its reins were loosened and its driver thrown. As it was, both parties had a fortunate escape.

James Moffitt will commence building a new house near the railroad depot tomorrow. Several new houses are going up in various parts of the town.

Mr Vinzent and family have taken possession of their splendid new residence. Mr Nunan, its builder, has been elected Senator from the Eleventh Senatorial District of San Francisco.

CHEAP GOODS

The Broadway Auction Store, 841 Broadway Selling Off.

We call the attention of our readers, especially the ladies, to the advertisement of Mellis & Lippmann, proprietors of the Broadway Auction Store, 841 Broadway (the first store below Seventh street) which appears in our columns to day. They are selling off on account of the dissolution of the firm and unprecedented bargains may be expected.

This house since its establishment has been noted for its bargains, and hundreds have thronged there to take advantage of them. Now that they are selling off goods will be sold at a perfect sacrifice and we expect to see a great rush of purchasers daily in that direction. The goods to be sold embrace dry goods, boots and shoes etc, etc. The sale will continue for thirty days. Those who go first will of course secure the choicest of the stock.

New To-day in 50-Cent Column.

Furnished rooms on Third street, suite of rooms on Eleventh street, store to let in Grand Central Hotel cottage, to rent on Telegraph avenue, rooms and stable to let on Bay street, new mechanics boarding house on the corner of Sixth and Harrison streets, horse, harness and phaeton for sale, door key found.

Dr. Barlow J. Smith's REFORM MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE.

By combining Hygiene, Medicines and Surgery in this Institute we can treat more successfully than can be done in any larger hospital the following medical and surgical diseases: Paralysis in its various forms as Hemiplegia, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans or Saint Vitus Dance, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Liver and Kidney Diseases as well as Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Anæmia, Chlorosis, and all Female Diseases as Prolapsus, Ulceration, Retro- and Ante-Version and Flexions, Hypertrophy, Chronic Inflammations and Ovarian Tumors. [illegible] Diseases, Simple and specific [illegible] Von Hebra of Vienna, Scrofula, Glandular Enlargements, Cancers, Varicose [illegible] as well as the various Surgical operations for Hæmorrhoids, Varicocele, [illegible] Fistulas, Prolapsus Ani, Urethral Strictures.

THE NEWLY INVENTED ELECTRO Horse Shoe Magnet,

What [illegible] employing in the relief of pain and [illegible] is the most powerful remedial agent known to modern medicine [illegible] all Spinal Complaints, Weak and [illegible] Backs and overcoming [illegible] Neuralgia, Gouty [illegible] Paralysis are truly magical [illegible] Tumors and Glandular Swellings [illegible] through its agency nerves [illegible] revitalized, debilitated systems rapidly restored and all muscular [illegible] wonderfully energized.

[illegible] magnetic agent in conjunction with the medical and surgical treatment [illegible] Hygiene and the entire Water Cure [illegible] and nourishing healthful diet will [illegible] from three to six weeks [illegible] Nervous and Vital Debility [illegible] treatment of them [illegible] sixteen years in this city I feel warranted [illegible] special feature of the institution and invite attention to the same.

Nervous Diseases of Males.

[illegible] the Mind [illegible] mental [illegible] diseases and weaknesses [illegible] and abuse of this [illegible] It is a [illegible] that there is a growing [illegible] of disease associated with [illegible] sensitive or sensuous [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] Nervous Disease and Weakness [illegible] of the American people. [illegible] the class of diseases and weaknesses [illegible] relating to the nervous [illegible] in the United States and the [illegible] perfect standard of nerve vital [illegible] health and strength is the rare [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] We employ [illegible] baths, spinal spray baths and a great variety of water applications that are calculated to quietly regulate the circulation and give tone to the muscular and nervous systems. Not only this but [illegible] through our advice and private lectures to [illegible] patients to inform them in regard to [illegible] sexual propriety and by these varied means succeed in restoring nearly every case that comes under our medical supervision. And during our fifteen years of daily consultation in this class of cases, we have failed [illegible] of a single person being cured when [illegible] were employed and hygienic medication neglected and we take pleasure in affirming that during the past fifteen years those young men who have remained at the Cure and [illegible] from four to six weeks, have almost universally left our Home, so far restored to their former nervous, muscular, vital and natural integrity that whenever it has been our good fortune to meet them in years after treatment, we have universally received their congratulations not only for the cure effected by our system of [illegible] but for the enlightenment they have received and the immeasurable benefit which it has proven to them.

Important to Invalids.

DR. SMITH makes the claim that mind is simply organized sensation, and that each mental organ of the brain is directly connected with some [illegible] organ or function of the body, and also that the form and size of the various phrenological organs determine the relative strength of each vital organ of the body with which it is connected. For instance, Firmness and Self [illegible] determine the strength of the spine or backbone; the organ of Hope, the strength of the [illegible]; Conscientiousness, the strength of the Kidneys; the organ of Faith, measures the size and power of the Heart; Veneration the natural strength of the Stomach. The Cerebellum or organ of Amativeness, determines most fully the Genital and Uterine or Reproductive power of either male or female. Hence by a Phreno examination DR. SMITH is able to determine at once the specific disease to which each individual is hereditarily predisposed. Examinations and consultations free.
